2020 LAY READERS' CONFERENCE

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, this diocesan workshop is being offered on-line.

Because of decreased expenses, there will not be a registration fee charged this year.

For interested participants who do not have access to a computer and the internet, we hope that local parishes or deaneries will provide a central location where people can attend safely, and participate fully.

This conference will be provided using Zoom video technology. The hyperlink (address) for people to join us will be provided by email the week before the conference. So, please get your registration forms in by September 20 at the very latest!

If you have a computer and the internet, but are unfamiliar with Zoom, or not confident about how to use it, there will be a brief training session offered on Saturday, September 12 at 9:30am. If you would like to participate in the training session, please leave a message at 705-474-4005, or write pedalgreen@gmail.com.

We welcome all Lay Readers, past and present, clergy and anyone else who is interested in attending.

Following are The Responsibilities of Lay Readers (outlined in the Diocesan Handbook)

6.1 The Lay Reader should be able to read and be prepared to do so at the Incumbent's direction with whom he/she is covenanted.

6.2 The Lay Reader should lead in Public Worship of Almighty God and may function as Eucharistic Assistant in the Parish in which he/she is covenanted at the Incumbent's discretion.

6.3 Parochial Lay Readers who have received appropriate instruction may preach sermons of their own composition.

6.4 Diocesan Lay Readers may be requested by the Bishop or the archdeacon of his/her Deanery to take additional positions of Teaching or Leadership in a Parish which is vacant, and may lead in Public Worship and preach in other Deanery Parishes at the direction of the Archdeacon.
